Reading comprehension:

Hi, my name's Brett. My family, that's mum, dad and me, live in Broome, Western Australia. Western Australia is large: about 2,500 000 square kilometres, but only 1.9 million people live there. Broome is in the north of Western Australia. It's a town with a population of about twelve thousand. Broome is right on the coast and is famous for Cable Beach, which is 22 km long. Both my parents work. My father is a mechanic and my mother is a nurse. We live in a bungalow with a large garden. I often help my father at the weekends when he fixes cars for friends. When we drive out into the bush, Dad often lets me drive. Of course, I am not allowed to drive in town.

At the weekends, I often go fishing or swimming with my friends or my parents. We drive to Cable Beach and look for a quiet place to swim or to fish. There's no problem finding a quiet place on a beach that is so long. From October to March we do not go swimming because there may be jellyfish (Qualle) in the water. The Box Jellyfish is one of the most deadly jellyfish. In Australia, they kill up to 65 people a year. If you get stung (verbrennen) by one, the best thing to do is to put vinegar (Essig) over the area of the skin where the jellyfish has stung. That's why we always take a bottle of vinegar with us.

I love living in Broome. I wouldn't want to live anywhere else. Come and visit us!
